RECEPTION COMMITTEE TALKED IT OVER

Getting Ready to Extend a Glad Welcome on Fourth of July.

The reception committee of the Old Home Week Celebration met on Monday evening at City Hall with Chairman Hackett presiding and it was a representative gathering of business and professional men.

Chairman Hackett outlined the work there was to be done by the committee on July 4, and assigned the various members to the stations they were expected to fill. All of the committee will assist in extending the welcome of the city to the visiting Sons and Daughters and some were assigned to the depot to welcome the returning Sons and especially the invited guests and see that they are assigned to carriages and taken to the Rockingham Hotel, which is the headquarters of the special guests. From the make up of the distinguished committee all are assured of a warm welcome.

A meeting of the executive committee and chairmen of the various committees will be held at City Hall this evening, and it is anticipated that there will be considerable business disposed of. While the general plans have been pretty well arranged, there are many details still to be decided. Chairman Hackett spent about the entire day Monday at work on the various matters pertaining to the celebration. The work getting the upper floor of the machine shop ready for the lunch was started on Monday and everything will be in readiness for the Fourth.

Chief Marshal Sanborn has the roster of the parade almost completed, and the plans made so that there will not be a hitch of any sort.

The work of laying down the quarter mile track at the playgrounds was begun on Monday and it will be rolled every day, so that it should be in good condition by the Fourth.

The decorators started on the buildings about the city on Monday afternoon, beginning on the building on the corner of Dandel and Pleasant streets. This was finished and the Portsmouth Savings Bank and City Hall started. Practically every building on the main streets will be decorated, and the city will be in gala attire by the Fourth.

The invitation committee are still working and had over 300 names handed in on Monday and more coming. This hustling committee have already sent out 2500 names and will keep up the good work as long as possible.

QUICK LUNCH CHANGES HANDS

Harry Couse has bought out Fred C. Moulton, who, for nearly a year has run the quick lunch, confectionery and news stand connected with Atlantic Shore Line waiting room at the Portsmouth end of the ferry.

Mr. Moulton is to continue as purser on the ferry steamboats.

The new proprietor of the lunch room is a hustling young man, who has been working for the Portsmouth News company, and has many friends who wish him success.

A big Lynn delegation will come home on Monday.

KITTERY LETTER

Kittery, Me., June 2.

Kittery correspondent's telephone 295-5.

The Misses Carrie and Susan Paul were called to Boston suddenly yesterday on account of the death of a niece.

Harold Chick has taken employment in Clark and Rogers drug store. Mrs. Fred Atwater and two daughters from Bridgeport, Conn., have returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson Hobbs.

Master Noyes and Master MacDonough are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Wentworth.

Mrs. Elmer Burnham is reported as improving slowly.

Mrs. Charles Philbrick will hold a recital at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening for her pupils.

Edward Shapleigh has taken employment for a short while in the car barn.

The youngsters are busy gathering logs, rubbish and kindling for the annual bon fire at the navy yard station, the night before the 4th.

Some say that there is to be a dance after the fire, July 4, from 1 a. m. till 3 a. m. It's a good idea and a splendid way to celebrate, and it is hoped that the plan will be carried through.

A great many people here are rejoicing to find that the old orchestra, with the exception of Mr. Whitman is back again at Pierce Hall.

Fourth of July will be busy here, since already people are coming to partake in Portsmouth's Old Home week.

Miss Amy Windrich has entered the employ of George B. French as clerk in his store at Portsmouth.

Miss Lucy Howe has accepted a position in the Portsmouth steam laundry.

People are wondering if the cars are always going to be late, or if the time schedule has really changed.

Passengers on the seven o'clock cars to Badger's Island were astonished this morning to see a small black dog walking along Newmarket street with a stalk of rhubarb in his mouth. He was headed toward the village and one facetious passenger suggested that he was going to the grocery store to get some sugar.

Kittery Point

Kittery Point correspondent's telephone 295-5.

Bernice Irish of Providence, R. I., is here to pass the summer with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Irish.

Mrs. Hattie Coleman, who has been visiting here, has returned to her home in Boston.

Mr. Storer Decatur is here to pass the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Decatur.

Miss Alice Coes spent Monday as the guest of Miss Helen Dunbar.

Misses Marion Blake, Susie Seaward, Lavina Wilson, Adelaide Bond and Alice Grace are taking the entrance examinations for Traip cademy.

Mrs. Bowden, who has been staying at Ernest Grace's during the illness and death of her daughter, has returned home.

The firemen will hold a dance in Frisbee's hall Thursday evening, June 30.

Mr. Fred Rollins and family have arrived to pass the summer at their cottage.

Mrs. J. G. Wurtell and daughter are occupying the Preston cottage.

The Ladies' Fancy Work club met with Mrs. William Tobey this afternoon and spent a very enjoyable afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Emery are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Harry Emery of Boston.

Mrs. Fred W. Don has been entertaining her brother, Mr. Frank Call of South Herwick.

Mr. Charles Gerrish of the University of Maine is home to spend the summer.

HEBREWS TO PARADE

Besides a Float They Will Have Banquet

A meeting of the Hebrews of this city was held on Monday evening at the Temple of Israel on State street, where a large number of the Jewish residents attended.

In addition to having a float in the parade on Monday next, it was a unanimous vote of the assemblage that every member of the race march on Monday and accompany the display which they had previously arranged for.

Following the procession they will hold a reception at the Temple, and a banquet will be served at which everybody is welcome. In the march they will wear black clothes, carry American flags and also wear a handsome badge which they are selecting for the occasion.

RECEPTION TO PASTOR

St. John's Parishioners Are to Entertain Thursday

The parishioners of St. John's parish are to tender a reception to the new pastor Rev. Harold M. Folson, on Thursday evening next at the chapel.

The ladies of the parish are in charge of the arrangements and the guest of honor will be Rt. Rev. Edward M. Parker, bishop coadjutor of the New Hampshire diocese.

The hours of reception will be from 8 to 10 o'clock and the chapel will be handsomely decorated for the occasion and there are indications that a large gathering of the members of St. John's parish will be present.

GOV. QUINBY TO BE HERE

Governor Henry R. Quinby, who is to be the guest of the city on Old Home day, next Monday, will arrive on the 10.10 a. m. train and will be met at the depot by the coast artillery corps from Fort Constitution, Captain McBride commanding, and the local coast artillery militia, and be escorted to the Rockingham hotel. He will be accompanied by three aids, and will review the procession from the hotel.

FIRE HORSES SOLD

Pair Once on Hook and Ladder Bring Good Money at Auction Sale

The pair of horses lately purchased by the city government for use on the hook and ladder truck from James Harvey and then discarded, were sold at auction on Monday by the original owner to Valentine Hunt for $531.

Chief of Police Thomas Entwistle is busy selecting his large force of deputies who will be sworn in for July Fourth. There will be twenty-five specials.

Itching, bleeding, protruding or blind piles yield to Don's Ointment. Chronic cases soon relieved, finally cured. Druggists all sell it.

LOCOMOTIVE PLUNGED INTO PIT

Blocked Turn Table of Round House and a Shortage of Engines Resulted.

Locomotive No. 182 of the Dover branch, piled up in the bottom of the pit of the turn-table at the Boston and Maine round-house, last night, blocking the turn-table so that a few of the many locomotives housed for the night could be taken out.

The accident happened at 10.30 last evening when Engineer Hill, who had just come in from the last run on the Dover branch, was hauling into the round-house for the night. His explanation is that he applied the brake when he neared the turn-table, but that the brake refused to hold and she slid along and the turn-table not being in the right position for his track, the engine toppled over and plunged head first into the pit, a distance of about eight feet.

Engineer C. O. Hill and his fireman G. H. Moore, jumped and escaped without injury. The engine struck in such a way that it did not block the entire table, but allowed it to swing so that five of the engines could be gotten out and the last one by a narrow margin as it was necessary to chop away several inches of the wood work of the table to make it set right for the engine. All of the other locomotives were effectually housed under the wrecked engine could be lifted out.

A telegram message to Boston after the big steam derrick brought a response that the derrick was already on the Newburyport branch where there was a wreck, which had blocked the tracks and it was an all-night's job. The local wrecking crew were turned out, and they started work jacking up the engine and blocking it up, so it might be hauled back to the tracks.

The wreck was cleared away early this forenoon by the big steam railroad derrick from Nashua, and work resumed in the usual manner.

THE WEATHER

HILL OF MARIETTA CENSURED

Report Makes a Slap at Navy Yard Repair Work—His Ship Was Taken Away Too Soon.

Washington, June 28. Somewhat of a naval sensation has been caused by the report of the court of inquiry which has just investigated the condition of the gunboat Marietta and mildly censured her commanding officer, Commander Frank K. Hill. It is almost certain that drastic reforms in the repair and inspection of naval vessels will follow. Although the court of inquiry in the case recommended that Commander Hill be censured, its report reads much like a vindication of that officer. It was found that the board of inspection which started the rumpus over the Marietta had overdrawn the facts, and that the Marietta was such an old, disreputable hulk that she might have gone down at sea had a comparatively trivial accident occurred to her.

In this connection this court reported that Lieutenant Richer, senior engineer officer of the ship, in 1909 endeavored to get detained from the Marietta, and, not succeeding, committed suicide on board. This is the first official light on the death of Lieutenant Richer, which occurred in Hampton Roads, Oct. 14, 1909.

Commander Hill is held partially responsible for the Marietta going to sea in such poor condition, but the court pours some hot shot into the navy yards in addition. It appeared that certain repairs were made on the Marietta at the Washington navy yard in February, 1909, and later at the Portsmouth yard. The court reported, however, that all the repairs requested by Commander Hill were not made.

The U. S. S. Marietta was repaired at this yard in 1909 and all of the repairs asked for were carried out and in a most thorough manner, but it was well known that the ship was taken away altogether too soon, and before much needed work could be authorized or done. It was known to the friends of Lieut. Richer, who committed suicide, that the condition of the engines were the cause of his rash act, being unable to get them into condition.

It is common knowledge that man a ship left the yard with work recommended by the department heads and foreman as necessary still unfinished.

ITALY ASKED FOR CHARLTON

Rome, June 25.—The foreign office has decided to follow the provisions of the Italian-American extradition conventions and to ask for the extradition of Porter Charlton, leaving it with the American authorities to accept or refuse the request.

With this decision the lake Como murder case enters the realm of diplomacy, and the outcome of the exchanges between Rome and Washington will be followed with an interest quite outside that attaching to the murder of Mrs. Charlton.

As soon as it was known here that the confessed slayer was under arrest in the United States, the ministry of justice recognized the unusual situation in which the Italian authorities were placed, and forthwith referred the whole matter to the foreign office.

Extradition between Italy and the United States is provided for in the conventions of 1868 and 1884, but Italy has always held that these treaties did not cover the cases of Italian citizens, who, having committed crimes in the United States, escaped to their native country. In such instances the government has insisted that the accused be tried in the courts of their country. Several times requests for extraditions of Italian criminals from the American state department have been refused.

Nevertheless, in the present case the government determined to put the matter up to Washington. Should the American state department follow the precedent established by this country and refuse the extradition of Charlton, its action will be construed as a recognition of the equity of the Italian interpretation of the extradition conventions, providing, of course, the refusal is not based upon the grounds that the prisoner is insane, or for any reason other than that he is an American citizen.

TEN MORE CADILLAC CARS BOUGHT BY NEW YORK CITY

Showing of Those Already in Service Influences Big Additional Purchase

The city of New York has again paid the Cadillac Thirty the highest possible honor, in the form of an order for ten of these cars for the municipal service. This is in addition to and closely follows an order for four Cadillacs for the municipal department of the Borough of Brooklyn.

Cadillac cars are by no means unknown in the city service. Fourteen Cadillac ambulances are in use by the hospitals; and three had previously been in use by the Brooklyn department. Brooklyn was the first borough of Greater New York to adopt motor cars as an adjunct to the performance of municipal duties. Twelve cars, of different makes, were installed. Included in this number were the three Cadillacs. A very systematic and accurate record was kept of the cost of operating and maintaining, which was very low, very largely due to the exceptional showing made by the Cadillacs, that the New York order for ten cars was placed, in its entirety, with the Cadillac company.

Of the ten cars, six are to be equipped with demitonneau bodies and four with five passenger touring bodies.

Perfect Score in Atlanta-New York Tour

Word has just been received that the Cadillac Thirty finished the Atlanta to New York Good Roads Tour with a perfect score.

Out of more than sixty cars in the run, the Cadillac was one of only six to finish without a mark to its discredit. The car was entered by D. K. McColl, a cotton merchant of Bennettsville, S. C., and driven by George Bailey, of Greenville.

TRAIN—CAULDER

Daniel C. Train, fisherman and Miss Nancy E. Caulder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Caulder, both of Cumberland, Me., were married at City Hall Monday by City Clerk Lambert Hilton.

All the children of the Whipple school, who are to march in the July 4 parade, are requested to meet at the school at nine o'clock Tuesday, for drill. If Thursday is stormy they are to meet on Friday.

BLIND OBEDIENCE

Did as the Judge Told Him and Was Well Paid For It.

A gentleman had a head gardener who never thought of having a holiday or missing a day from work and so somewhat surprised his employer by asking him if he could have "next Friday off."

His request was immediately granted, but on the Saturday he did not show up, and a week went past, and then a fortnight, and still no sign of Mike. The gentleman reluctantly employed another man in Mike's place.

About three months afterward he was surprised on going into the grounds to find Mike at work just as if nothing had happened.

"Where have you been, Michael?" he asked.

"Well, sarn, it's like this: You remember the day you let me off? I had to appear at the court as a witness. When I gets there I sees the old gint with the wig on 'is head and 'is specs on the tip of 'is nose.

"'Michael Dooley,' sez 'e.

"'Yis, sarn,' sez I.

"'Go into that box,' says 'e.

"'Right, sarn,' sez I.

"'Sweat,' sez 'e.

"'I did as 'e told me, though I don't use bad language as a rule.

"'Three months for contempt of court,' sez 'e.

"'And they've only just let me out, sarn,'—Pearson's.

ACCUSED AS A WITCH.

Tried For "Conversing With the Devil in the Form of a Cat."

Jane Wenham was indicted at the Bedfordshire assizes on March 4, 1712, for "conversing with the devil in the form of a cat," under the provisions of the act of 1634, repealed in 1734. Her prosecutors wished to have her indicted for practicing witchcraft to the harm of Ann Thorne, a servant girl sixteen years old, but this was not allowed, although evidence was produced at the trial to show what injury had been done the victim by means of crooked pins and by placing cakes and cats' tails in Ann Thorne's pillow and how the prisoner had caused the death of some cattle simply by walking through a turnip field.

The jury brought her in "guilty," and Mr. Justice Powell passed sentence of death, but took steps to quash the verdict. Wenham's prosecutors published an account of the case, but their arguments were pulverized by scientific men. Jane Wenham herself was liberated and taken under the protection of Colonel Pimmin, who gave her a cottage, and we are told by Dr. Hutchison that in 1720 the whole country was fully convinced of her innocence.—London Spectator.

Do You Know This Flower?

Among the guests at a summer hotel in Vermont was a scientist from Boston, noted for his botanical researches, and a woman desirous of impressing him with her stores of general knowledge; also she affected a deep interest in all matters pertaining to botany.

"I suppose," said the woman one day, "that you find almost all the mountain flowers around here?"

"I find a great many," said the scientist.

"There's one species of flower," she continued, "of which I've read as always being on the hills, and I've always wanted to see it. Perhaps you can pick me some."

"And what is this flower, madam?"

"The 'purple gloaming,' you know. I should dearly love to possess some!"—Minneapolis Journal.

Watch Your Shoulders.

When standing before a looking glass notice if your shoulders are the same height. Generally the right is higher than the left. The reason for this unevenness lies in the way one sits. You get into a comfortable chair at your desk, and at once you rest your right elbow on the arm of your chair or your desk, thus throwing one shoulder higher than the other. This is especially the case where one writes a great deal. When you notice that one shoulder is higher than the other the thing to do is to change your way of sitting at your desk. Two simple exercises will be beneficial. The arm of the lower shoulder should be extended upward, the hand grasping a dumbbell. That of the higher shoulder should be lowered and made to support a heavy weight.

The Sleep of Seeds.

Oats, corn, fennel and some flower seeds were exposed during 113 days to a temperature of 40 degrees F. below zero. Afterward when placed in suitable surroundings nearly all of the fennel, oat and corn seeds and many of the others germinated. It is concluded that the protoplasm, or the principle of life, in a resting seed is in a state of inaction not comparable to that of a smoldering fire, but rather like that of a chemical mixture which is capable of forming a combination whenever the required conditions of temperature and illumination are present.

She Was Born Yesterday.

She—Last night was the first time I ever heard you talk in your sleep, and you kept saying, "Four lings," and once in awhile, "Full house." He—Well, you see, I was down to the club last night playing checkers with a crack player and there was a full house watching us.

PORTSMOUTH CADETS ENTER TAIN

Give their First Benefit Dance to Pay for Uniforms.

The Portsmouth Cadet company held its first dance of the season at the Portsmouth Yacht Club Hall on Monday. The cadet company is a newly formed organization of Portsmouth young men interested in military training. Through the efforts of those interested in the company and Captain Harriman, N. H., who has kindly offered his services for the drills, the boys will be seen for the first time on July Fourth in their new uniforms, when they will participate in the celebration of the "Sons and Daughters" return.

The cadets' orchestra furnished music for dancing and Weaver served ice cream and cake.

WRIGHT MEETS WILDING

Boston Player and New Zealander Reach Finals in the All-England Tennis Tournament.

Wimbledon, Eng., June 28.—Beals C. Wright of Boston qualified for the final singles in the all-England tennis championship tournament Monday, defeating A. H. Lowe in the semifinals, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Wright's opponent in the finals will be A. F. Wilding, the New Zealander who was a member of the Australasian team which successfully defended the Davis trophy a year ago.

AN UP-TO-DATE STOVE

Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME
Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a coal range will do—except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-

Stove will do anything, from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "swell," it doesn't smoke. It can't get out of order. Light it and it is ready. Turn it down and it is out. Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and cooking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, bake or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in turquoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, kettle or oven, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed—and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.

The nickel finish with the bright blue of the chimneys makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

KEEP UP THEIR INTEREST

As the time draws near for the return of the sons and daughters of our city, let us prepare to remind them of the business possibilities here.

We have many times told the story and urged our readers to tell it, but the story is so good a one that it will bear repeating.

Ask them if in their travels away from Portsmouth they have heard of an Atlantic harbor with water as deep as the water in Portsmouth harbor.

Ask them if in their travels away from Portsmouth they have heard of an Atlantic harbor with an easier approach from the ocean than is found at Portsmouth harbor.

Ask them if in their travels away from Portsmouth they have heard of better beaches than stretch along the coast in both directions from Portsmouth.

Ask them if in their travels away from Portsmouth they have found a manufacturing town with a better class of workmen than those who labor in Portsmouth.

Ask them if in their travels away from Portsmouth they have seen a more intelligent population, or better society to live in, than exists in Portsmouth and vicinity.

Ask them if in their travels away from Portsmouth they have found a town better supplied with modern facilities than is Portsmouth.

Ask them if in their travels away from Portsmouth they have found better agricultural possibilities than those of Rockingham and York counties.

Ask them if in their travels away from Portsmouth they have seen a country better supplied with water powers or other manufacturing inducements than the country that Nature made tributary to Portsmouth harbor.

Ask them if in their travels away from Portsmouth they have found a better climate or more beautiful country than we enjoy here.

Ask them all these and more questions. Set them to thinking. Bring some of them back here to live or persuade some of their children to locate here.

Ask them all this, but don't let them get bored, and be sure that they have a good time, for every man likes to live where life is pleasant.

Let us show the famous old Portsmouth hospitality so that the fame of our fair city will spread from ocean to ocean. They come here because they are interested in Portsmouth. Let us make them more interested and both the home people and the visitors will like it.

BIRDSEYE VIEWS

Schagor Gallinger, though defeated at this session of congress in his laudable endeavor to restore an American merchant marine to the high seas, is not discouraged; and he has given notice in the senate that he will bring the matter up at the earliest possible date in the next session.

Diaz has been reelected president of Mexico, without opposition. That is the way they run things in that country.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

Division Among the Democrats
When Mr. Bryan reaches these shores—he is expected shortly—he will find business to attend to. His welcome will not be as vociferous as that accorded Mr. Roosevelt, but his friends will be quite as glad to see him. And glad in the same way. The Rooseveltites are looking to "Teddy" for a cue as to 1912, and the Bryanites are depending upon their hero for a stellar service.

Mr. Bryan must get to work if he would hold his own in a party slush at last with hope. The situation is new. Two years before the contests of 1900, 1904 and 1908 the democracy was flabby and discouraged. He won his nomination in 1900 without an effort. He faced himself four years later, and, as a personal compliment, gave his support in the national convention to a man who was not a factor in the equation. In 1908 he won with ease, although Wall street had raked the country in an effort to defeat him.

But now the democracy, cheered by republican divisions, is donning its fighting raiment and talking of victory. The leaders are taking an earnest look around. The rank and file are falling in. Everybody is very much alive. Mr. Bryan has not a day to spare. His enemies everywhere are about.

In Indiana, where his associates on the ticket of two years ago is a candidate for senator, the anti-Bryanites want the peerless leader barred from the campaign. They fear a collision between him and the brewers, and feeling that they must choose between the eloquent tongue and the foaming schooner, they pronounce for the latter. What will Mr. Bryan do about it?

In Ohio he has just been sharply rebuked by the Harmonites, who will run the state campaign with the aim of making Gov. Harmon the democratic national leader in 1912. Will Mr. Bryan be invited to help along the program? And, if he is, will he accept? There are brewers by the way, in Ohio, and they are for Harmon. If Mr. Bryan is barred from that campaign, or bars himself, will his friends in the state bestir themselves for the ticket?

In Pennsylvania things are at sixes and sevens, with Col. Guffy and others accused of being in cahoots for the campaign with Senator Penrose. Will Mr. Bryan look into matters and give advice over there?

In New York everything, as usual, is anti-Bryan. But Wall street does not confine its political activity to that state. It is a rover in the field against the Nebraskan, and is busy at present laying pipe for 1912. Its present object is to defeat Mr. Bryan for the democratic nomination. If successful in that it will then decide as to its course in the contest between the two parties.

Mr. Bryan's absence from the country has been short. It will not be necessary for him to wait as long as Mr. Roosevelt has wisely decided to do before getting into the game again—Washington Star.

A BIG IMPROVEMENT

Happy, Happy, Use TIZ

A Marvel For Sore Feet Acts Right Off

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ—

Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelling feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, callouses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does.

TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—four feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

If you don't find all this true after trying a box of TIZ, you can get your money right back.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Princess Juliana of the Netherlands' favorite toy is a Teddy bear. The future queen of the Netherlands has just celebrated her first anniversary, which was an event throughout Holland. It is doubtful if any heir to a throne in Europe is watched with more care or is better loved than Princess Juliana. The residents of the Netherlands are better pleased to have a queen than a king, for under Queen Wilhelmina they have prospered.

TO ENFORCE PUBLICITY

Taft Make Public the Corporation Returns

Washington, June 28.—President Taft has told some of his callers that he contemplated enforcing some provisions of the publicity clause of the corporation tax in spite of the fact that no appropriation was made by congress for that purpose. He believes he can find a way to make public the returns of certain classes of the large corporations, who have a bearing upon governmental regulation.

The details for this have not been decided upon but the president has it in mind and expects to reach some definite conclusions while he is in Beverly this summer.

ST. JOHN'S RECTOR

A GOOD ENTERTAINMENT

The High Class Vaudeville and Pictures Now at Music Hall

One of the best single acts at the Portsmouth theatre this season was given yesterday afternoon and evening by Miss Florence Douglass, the well known soloist and monologue artist. She has a very clear, sweet voice which delighted the audiences, and her clever, refined jokes also made a great hit. Miss Douglass has had a wide experience on the vaudeville stage and in musical comedy. She was also a valued member of the original "Waltz Dream" company, at the Broadway theatre. After filling a short engagement in Vermont, she will enjoy a much needed rest before making a tour abroad, which she is now contemplating.

The Novelty musical act by Mr. Baum was exceptionally good and he proved himself a skillful musician.

Another good act was by Melvin and Ellis. The solos by Mr. Melvin were splendidly given and well received and the dancing by Miss Ellis won much applause. She deserves special credit as her work was unusually well done.

The pictures were also very attractive.

AT CHRIST CHURCH

There will be a special rehearsal of music for next Sunday in the choir room tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Music: Mozart's "Seventh Mass," Le Jeune's "Light of Light," "Our Country's Flag," a new patriotic hymn, Stimper's Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis. A full attendance of the combined choir is requested.

There will be a rehearsal in St. George's chapel, York Harbor tomorrow evening, for the festival service to be held in this church on Sunday evening next.

NOTICE

Electric Sign advertising is no longer an experiment. The most successful firms of world-wide reputation as well as the stores with whom we have done business give us facts that prove the advertising worth of Electric Signs to be far in excess of any method of advertising that has ever been devised for the amount expended.

Look for the most enterprising city of today and you will find one that uses Electric Signs on all available locations and where merchants appreciate the advertising value and use light. I am making and selling the best signs that can be produced, not the cheapest, cut signs that will stand up and give service for years. Recent inventions have reduced the cost and also the cost of maintaining. Public spirit and civic pride demand well lighted business sections in our cities, why not do your part with a well lighted, artistic Electric Sign and increase your business as well.

I charge nothing for estimates or sketches and am always willing to explain details and serve your interests. Respectfully yours,

BOY SHOT BY COMPANION

Purely An Accident, But Arthur
Trafton Has a Narrow Escape.

Arthur Trafton, the twelve year old son of George Trafton of Myrtle avenue, was shot through the right cheek on Monday noon by a young playmate, Alexander Fraser. It was purely an accident, and while Trafton had a narrow escape he is not dangerously injured.

The boys had been playing together and young Trafton, it is said went into the houses and returned shortly after with a revolver. Boy like, he was showing it, and gave it to Fraser to get a better look, and the latter, not knowing that it was loaded, pulled the trigger and the cartridge exploded and the bullet struck young Trafton in the cheek and went through.

Dr. E. B. Eastman was called and he found a bullet hole through Trafton's cheek, but failed to locate the bullet and it is possible that he swallowed it. The bullet wound is not of a serious nature unless blood poisoning sets in.

The revolver was a twenty-two calibre and belonged to the father of the Trafton boy. Had the bullet struck a little higher it might have resulted seriously for young Trafton. His companion, young Fraizer, is very much distressed over the accident.

NEW CASTLE

New Castle, June 28.

The rush to the shore will now begin and unless all signs fail the coming week will witness an unusual exodus to this attractive resort. The past week has been most delightful. The copious showers have given the vegetation needed moisture from which they have emerged refreshed and more luxuriantly vernal than ever and all nature seems at its best. From a more practical standpoint the roads have been greatly benefited and the dust well laid, a right smart down-pour does more for lawns, vegetation and roads than any sprinkling device can effect. Lilies have bloomed and faded, but the beautiful and fragrant wax blossoms of the syringa are at their best. The attractive wild perennials the shore wells and the fleur-de-lis is blooming luxuriantly in the moist pastures, their royal beauty tempting one to be indiscreet at the cost of dampened feet. June can well be called the month of roses, the very air is redolent with their perfume. The imperial rose has been well said of it and in witness to this happy truth is the fact that the mystical beauty of roses is as irresistible today as it was three thousand years ago when they bloomed in the rose gardens of Jericho.

Mr. Simeon C. Flanders, after a brief visit with his family, has returned to Alton.

Mrs. Lizzie Webber and Miss Annie Wolfe of New York, are the guests of their uncle, Conrad Push.

Mrs. Charles Roberts, who has been the guests of relatives, has returned to her home in Farmington.

Miss Hilda Millett of Boston is the guest of Miss Alice E. Larkin, at the Benton cottage.

Miss Frances Kerling of South Boston is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel B. Yeaton.

Captain Edward Ball has returned from a brief outing with friends at Fox Point.

Mrs. Harvey White, who has been passing several days at her cottage has returned to her home in Farmington.

Mrs. Mary Osgood and Miss Addie Osgood, who have been sojourning at the Fort cottage, have returned to their home in Sangoek.

Wayne D. Poole received the first degree in Seaside Council, No. 20, Junior O. U. A. M., in Rye, Monday evening. Mr. Poole was one of a number of nine who received their first degree. The initiation was followed by a most delicious repast.

This bustling lodge are constantly on the qui-vive for recruits and land a large number to their Council yearly.

Wedding cards have been received in town of the marriage of Miss Marion Mann Preble and James C. Downing in Roxbury June 16. Mrs. Downing is the daughter of Rufus A. Preble formerly of this town.

Honorable Norman McCloud of Calcutta, India, is the guest of Alfred O. Larkin and family.

Only five days to the hot and glorious Fourth, when all roads will lead to Portsmouth. Happy the man or woman who will know the keen pleasure of being back home. Nowhere else is feasting so sweetened by sentiment, nowhere will welcome be so unalloyed, nowhere the giving of thanks so full of gratitude. The pilgrim along life's way, none too easy at best, will find no finer stimulus for the renewal of the journey, than the joining together, if only for a few hours in dear old Strawberry Bank Old Home day and seeing once more the places familiar to vanished years. Would they might all be back home on Monday next. Let those of us who can send out a special telepathic message of good cheer to those who cannot.

PREFERS MATRIMONY TO NAVY
Candidate for Annapolis Weds and Ends His Chance

Annapolis, Md., June 28.—Smilten

by Miss Leona Meade, whom he had met while boarding at the home of her mother at Annapolis, Alfred L. Bruce of Childress, Tex., a candidate for the naval academy, was married at Towson, Baltimore county, Md., Saturday night, while reports from the entrance examinations which he had completed here on the same day, had not been received.

Bruce is rather hopeless of having passed, but so were a large majority of the candidates who took the examinations with him, and yet the report was made today that there was no reason to believe that there had been a greater percentage of failures than usual.

Bruce is about eighteen years old and his bride is about the same age. They have not returned to Annapolis as yet, and his plans for the future are not known. Even if he has passed his mental examinations for the naval academy his hopes for a naval career are at an end, as the rule that the midshipmen shall be celibates is absolute. Everything points to the fact that he deliberately chose to give up his career, though he has been studying at one of the Annapolis preparatory schools for some time, making special preparations for his examinations.

All that is needed for July Fourth is good weather. With that, it will be one of the biggest days in the history of the old city.

MUST BE A MISTAKE

The Biddeford Journal announces the death at New Castle, N. H., on Monday of James H. Staples, a mill foreman, formerly of Biddeford, and employed at the mills in New Castle.

There has been no such man at New Castle, and it is thought that the item must be a mistake, and that it means a resident of Newmarket.

Winsted, Conn., June 28.—Rear Admiral William S. Cowles, retired, of Farmington, brother-in-law of Col. Roosevelt, is now prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for governor on the republican ticket this fall.

His name was put forth since the fact became generally known that Charles A. Goodwin of Hartford, who is seeking the nomination, is a near relative of J. P. Morgan, a director in the New York, New Haven and Hartford, who was a football player at Harvard, is also making a determined effort to land the gubernatorial nomination.

EVENTS OF ELIOT

Eliot, Me., June 28.

Ruth Spence, the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Chester Spence is in a serious condition, the result of a fall from the piazza with a pair of scissors in her hand. The sharp points penetrated through the abdomen to her back, touching one kidney.

At the Grange meeting on Monday evening, three membership applications were received. In the program, solos were given by Albert W. Nowell and H. B. Rogers, singing by the Eldridge young people, a reading by Howard P. Libbey, and a paper by Mrs. Charles E. Foye on what she saw at the unloading of an immigrant steamship.

At the Lanier camps this summer there is to be a series of Sunday afternoon addresses by noted speakers.

Richard J. Remick and Mrs. Flora S. (Brooks) Hutchins, both of South Eliot were recently married, and have commenced housekeeping at Mr. Remick's home on upper Main street.

Many of the farmers began haying on Monday and the half made hay got wet in the night's showers. Grass is good this year, but there has been so little sunshine that the stalks are weak and it lodges easily from wind or rain.

Charles Huntress and Ed. Sherman Paul are to be added to the list of those having their own early green peas. Mr. Paul also claims some good chickens, a pair of his barred Plymouth rocks, four months old, weighing seven pounds, four ounces.

Mrs. Ellen J. Clark, widow of Samuel Clark, died this morning, at home, aged sixty-eight years. She leaves a son, F. Raymond Clark, and a daughter, Miss Arrie Clark. Her maiden name was Shapleigh and she was a lifelong resident of this town. She was a valued member of the Eliot Methodist church and of the Eliot Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The funeral services will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at two o'clock; friends are invited.

THE ATHLETIC SPORT

PLANS COMPLETED FOR THE
FOURTH—SPLENDID PRIZES OF-FERED.

A meeting of the committee having in charge the athletic events for the Fourth of July in the Old Home Week celebration met at the P. A. C. on Monday evening and with Chairman Newall went over the plans for the afternoon.

The sports will be held in the afternoon at the South playgrounds and will begin promptly at two o'clock, the sports to be followed by a baseball game between the P. A. C. and a picked nine of the sailors of the U. S. S. New Hampshire and the Marletta.

In the athletic events three prizes will be given for each event, a gold medal attached to a watch fob for first, a silver medal for the second and a bronze medal for the third. The medals are very handsome and they will have on the front the seal of the city of Portsmouth, a winged foot and an olive branch symbolical of athletic sports. Under the inscription "Old Home Day Celebration, Portsmouth, N. H., July 4, 1910." On the reverse side it states the nature of the prize, the name of the event and won by—

The events will be open to citizens of Portsmouth and all towns within a radius of five miles of this city, the members of the 158th Company Coast Artillery, the men from the ships at the navy yard and the marine corps at the navy yard. The towns included will be Kittery, New Castle, Newington, Greenland and Rye, as far as Rye Center and not the Beach.

All entries will close July 1st, and entries may be made with J. W. Newall, chairman of the committee; C. D. Howard, physical instructor of the Y. M. C. A., at the Y. M. C. A. and at the Portsmouth Athletic club.

The events for boys will be a sack and three-legged race and five foot boys 12 years of age and under, and entries may be made at the Y. M. C. A. and the prizes will be the same as the men, but medals instead of fobs.

The following will be the program for the afternoon: Hundred yard dash, putting the shot, running high jump, running broad jump, one mile run, hop-step-and-jump, one quarter mile run. The three legged race and sack race for boys. The baseball game will be started immediately after the last event.

Everybody who is interested should at once file their names with the committee, and enter any of the events they wish. Already there are a good

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Portsmouth

Do the right thing at the right time.
Act quickly in times of danger.
Backache is kidney danger.
Doan's Kidney Pills not quickly.
Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this. Albert Dunlap, 17 School street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I suffer from kidney disease, brought on I believe by the hardships I endured while in the army. Some years ago my complaint became much worse and there was a constant pain in the small of my back that made me miserable. It was difficult for me to get about and if I stooped or moved suddenly, sharp twinges darted through my body. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as a cure for such troubles, I decided to try them and procured a box at Philbrick's Drug Store. After using about half the contents, I could see an improvement and almost before I realized it, the pains in my back had ceased. I have had no trouble to speak of from my kidneys since. Occasionally when I have taken a slight cold or over-worked, my back has become weak, but at such times a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills have always benefited me."

LITERARY NOTES

"The Twentieth Century Magazine" for July.

Progressive political and economic papers occupy a prominent place in the July Twentieth Century Magazine. The opening article, by William K. L. on "Classes and Privilege," is fairly entitled to be classed with the strongest political and economic essays that have appeared in English-speaking reviews in recent years. Here also is an extended and intensely interesting account by George Judson King of "The Only Political Boss in Switzerland" and a graphic picture of the results of this popular kind of rule, by which it is seen that M. Pison is very much like any one of a dozen of America's ill-famed bosses.

Art in the July Century.

Of special prominence among the many notable art features of the July Century are five full page etchings of Pittsburg, by Joseph Pennell, done in the artist's characteristic manner and conveying a vivid impression of the city which is dubbed "Volcanic Capital." There is also an exquisite reproduction in full color of a miniature portrait of King Edward, painted on ivory from life, by Allyn Williams, for the City of London Public Gallery in the Guildhall, and a color frontispiece, full of the spirit of summer, painted for the Century by Henry J. Peck and entitled "The Captain's Walk."

July Success Magazine.

"Success Magazine for July presents the marriage problem from the business girl's viewpoint in an interesting article entitled "The Business Girl's Ideals" by Robert Haven Schaffer. "The Chamberless Roadtown," by Mil Hastings, contains a plan whereby every home-dweller may enjoy the combine comforts of country and city life. "The Cost of Political Pork" by Arthur I. Street, shows how every citizen helps support Congressional extravagance. Orison Swift Marden's editorial for the month appears under the title "The Paralysis of Fear."

The July Scribner's.

Mr. Roosevelt's article, which leads the July Scribner, contains one of the most interesting episodes of his trip, the journey which he took alone, cutting loose from the rest of the party, and making a trek to the head waters of an equatorial river, "The Guaso Nyero," in pursuit particularly of the oryx, "a bold and hard fighter, which when cornered, will charge a man." During this excursion Mr. Roosevelt took his own photographs, a number of which are reproduced in the article. "These days alone in the wilderness went by very pleasantly," he says, "and, as it was for not too long, I thoroughly enjoyed being entirely by myself so far as white men were concerned." Later he joined the main safari and heard an account from Kermit of an exciting lion hunt. On incident of this journey was that when at Nari, he received from Perry the following cable: "Your farewell was a royal mascot, 'The Pole is ours.' If you once use 'Nichols' ice cream, you will use no other." Telephone 142.

PEARL DIVERS OF JAPAN.

Women and Young Girls Who Are Expert Swimmers.

The pearl divers of Japan are the women. Along the coast of the bay of Ago and the bay of Gokasho the thirteen and fourteen year old girls, after they have finished their primary school work, go to sea and learn to dive. They are in the water and learn to swim almost from babyhood, and they spend most of their time in the water except in the coldest season, from the end of December to the beginning of February.

Even during the most inclement of seasons they sometimes dive for pearls. They wear a special dress, white underwear and the hair twisted up into a hard knot. The eyes are protected by glasses to prevent the entrance of water. Tubs are suspended from the waist.

A boat in command of a man is assigned to every five to ten women divers to carry them to and from the fishing grounds. When the divers arrive on the grounds they jump into the water at once and begin to gather oysters at the bottom. The oysters are dropped into the tubs suspended from their waists.

When these vessels are filled the divers are raised to the surface and jump into the boats. They dive to a depth of from five to thirty fathoms without any special apparatus and retain their breath while remaining under water from one to three minutes. Their ages vary from thirteen to forty years, and between twenty-five and thirty-five they are at their prime.—New York Sun.

Mark Twain in Parliament

After a visit to England once Mark Twain said on his return to New York: "Among other things heaped upon me by Englishmen was that of being photographed in parliament. I am not a member of parliament. But neither am I a member of congress. Has any fellow American suggested that I should be photographed in congress? No. I blush to say that they have not. And yet here is an honor that might without risk be bestowed on any great man. And yet it was not bestowed upon Washington, Jefferson or Lincoln. When I saw that photograph, with the mother of parliaments in the background, and realized my advantage years I said to myself, 'Here are two noble monuments of antiquity—two shining examples of the survival of the fittest!'"

Liberia.

Liberia shares with Haiti the distinction of being the only place in the world where the negro rules not only himself, but also such white men as dwell there. Liberia's history has been one long record of intertribal and civil wars, although its record in this respect, it is only fair to say, is less sanguinary than that of Haiti. In fact, so careful is the Liberator of his skin when fighting is in progress that it has become a standing joke that a Liberator battlefield is the safest place on earth had that to become a soldier in Liberia is to embrace the least dangerous profession known to mankind.—Pearson's Weekly.

The Nasty Things.

Mrs. Dishaway—Yes, while we were in Egypt we visited the pyramids. They were literally covered with hieroglyphics.
Mrs. Newrich—Ough! Wasn't you afraid some of 'em would git on you?—London Mail.

OLD LONDON INNS.

Some That Are Famous Because of a Special Dish.

Though various restaurants in New York, Washington, New Orleans or San Francisco are famous for certain dishes, yet this is generally the result of accident rather than design that one article upon the menu should be pre-eminently successful and popular. The day is past when this one dish could make the reputation of the place.

In London, however, this is not the case, though it must be confessed that there are not now as many inns as formerly which have become famous by reason of the popularity of one dish. In times gone by every London inn of any pretensions at all had its special dish wherein it prided itself and to partake of which patrons traveled many miles.

Bel pies were once the great feature of breakfast served at the old Shute House, near Finsburg park. The necessary quantity of fish was regularly dredged up from the stream which ran under the windows of the inn. The pies are still to be had, but the eels are procured from a nearby fish market.

Simpson's, in the Strand, is noted for its fish dinners. This place was once immensely popular, and even today there is a certain following who swear by its repasts. For a certain sum the guest eats as much of a variety of fish as he cares to.

Another inn boasts of a special dish in the shape of Southdown mutton. This is wheeled up to the table in order that each individual may select the particular cut to which he is partial. The mutton is kept warm by means of water heated by a lamp.

THE RIVER NILE.

Egypt Would Be a Wilderness But For This Wonderful Stream.

The Nile is probably the most wonderful river in the world. It has made Egypt possible by turning an arid wilderness into the richest land in the world. It has provided at the same time an admirable commercial highway and made easy the transportation of building materials. The ancient Egyptians were thus enabled to utilize the granite of Assuan for the splendid structures of the hallowed gates, Thebes and of Memphis and even for those on Tanis, on the Mediterranean coast.

At a time when the people of the British isles were clad in skins of wild beasts and offered human sacrifices upon the stone altars of the Druids Egypt was the center of a rich and refined civilization. Most of the development of Egypt was due to the Nile, which not only watered and fertilized the soil annually, but was and is one of the best natural highways in the world.

From the beginning of winter to the end of spring—that is, while the Nile is navigable—the north wind blows steadily up the stream with sufficient force to drive sailing boats against the current at a fair pace, while, on the other hand, the current is strong enough to carry a boat without sails down against the wind except when it blows a gale. That is why the ancient Egyptians did not need steam power or electric motors for the immense commerce that covered the Nile nor for barges carrying building materials for hundreds of miles.—New York Herald.

The Uses of Rubber.

It is probable that no other commodity ever came into such varied use within so short a period as India rubber. First employed practically for footwear and other waterproof apparel, rubber has come to be employed in electrical insulation, hose pipes for the conveyance of water, steam, air and so on; pneumatic and other tires for all sorts of wheeled vehicles, balloons and the planes of aerial machines, innumerable articles for the comfort of invalids, household conveniences and what not. Thus far rubber has never come into use to an important extent for any given purpose to which it is not well adapted. In other words, its advantages are so marked in many uses that when once introduced no substitute can be found for it.—Cassier's Magazine.

Odd Hair Styles.

Some of the New Hebrides people do their hair up in a bunch on the top of the head and stain it yellow, while the inhabitants of the Ombai Islands pass it all through a tube so as to make a kind of plume. The Marquesas chief's favorite method is to shave all the head except two patches, one over each temple, where he cultivates two horseshoe of hair. No doubt this is to render him more a thing of terror to his enemies than admiration to his friends. His reason for shaving the rest of the head is to allow more space for tattooing, as if all the available skin of the body were not enough.

Explained.

"Our air mattresses," said the dealer, "are all filled in the months of April and May. That accounts for their remarkable resilient qualities."
"Is the air of those months better than others?"
"They are the spring months, you know."—Exchange.

Justice.

The only way to make the mass of mankind see the beauty of justice is by showing them in pretty plain terms the consequence of injustice.—Sydney Smith.

Progress is the activity of today and the assurance of tomorrow.—Bismarck.

Singling Out the Jews.

Russia has again set up a persecution of the Jews among her population. That racial intolerance is at the bottom of it would appear from the case of Oscar Hammerstein, an American citizen, who was recently buried from St. Petersburg. There seems to be no offense in Mr. Hammerstein except his Jewish blood. The Russian excuse for persecuting Jews is that their methods of getting on make them obnoxious. The Jewish problem in Russia is a peculiar one, but the government seems to yield to popular clamor in efforts to solve it.

Occasionally the Jews as a race are attacked in this country, notably in New York, which is often spoken of by outsiders as a city of Jews. Jews as a race are not clannish. They succeed best when life is a clash with the Christians around them. Driven to the wall, it would be natural that they stand together. Herein lies the folly of intolerance in their case. Let alone, they scatter and are valuable citizens.

An expert says that in fifteen years the boll weevil will have invaded the entire cotton growing region. But before that time our agricultural department should overtake him with poison or set a more respectable weevil on him.

The job of the king of Italy is not a sneeze. Pity a poor monarch who has to spend most of his spare time running about his realm to comfort the victims of earthquake and volcano!

Reverence in the Playhouse.

A goodly representation of American tourists will see the famous Passion play this season at Oberammergau. After ten years of rest and preparation the little upland village again presents this reverential drama in the spirit of three centuries ago. To the players, who number about 700 all told and constitute nearly the whole community, the reenactment of the tragedy of their Saviour's passion is solemn work. They do not play to the audience, but follow closely stage traditions which come down to them as part of their sacred obligation.

The play at Oberammergau is not designed to attract visitors, yet crowds seek admittance, for it is to be seen but once in a decade. This year for the first time automobiles will bring outsiders to the village streets. For tired Americans seeking a nerve rest the tarry at Oberammergau ought to be beneficial. The play is simple; it is lofty and leads to sober reflections.

Women property owners in Russia are to have suffrage on the same terms as men. It has been decided by the duma. It would be odd if women were to get national suffrage in that land of proverbial tyranny sooner than in this land of boasted freedom and independence.

If aerial navigation renders the Panama ditch a useless waterway the United States can still use the canal zone for airships to light upon when sending repairs and supplies.

RAISING THE MAINE
A DIFFICULT JOB

Washington, June 28.—Of course the army engineers will do their best to carry out the wishes of congress, who expressed, that an effort shall be made to raise the wreck of the battleship Maine from the bottom of Havana harbor, where it lies embedded in 27 feet of silt. But the engineers are frank to confess that they do not know the extent of the task before them, and they believe that the $300,000 appropriation will not be sufficient.

So their present idea is to use as much of the money as may be necessary to make a thorough examination of the wreck and the surrounding bottom of the harbor.

The only known method known of raising a ship in the condition of the Maine is to surround her with a cofferdam from which the water can be pumped, allowing the hull to be drained and the holes in the bottom closed. Engineering history fails to disclose a

BANDIT KILLED
AFTER SIEGE

Atlanta, Ga., June 28.—J. W. Bostwick, after being barricaded in his house for hours and killing two of his besiegers Sunday, was himself killed in a ruse on Monday on his house, near Irwinville, Ga. His children were taken unhurt.

With Bostwick in the house were six of his children, all small and some of them girls.

Four officers went Sunday night to arrest Bostwick, and he opened fire on them as soon as they neared the house. Stephen Davis, the Ocilla chief of police, and Deputy Sheriff Sheffield of Irwin county were instantly killed; Sheriff J. P. McInnis was fatally wounded and Deputy T. C. Bass was shot in the abdomen, being seriously hurt, and his arm was broken.

Threats were made by the posse to burn Bostwick out of his house, but when it was seen that nothing could be accomplished in that way, the deputies began firing.

It is stated that several months ago Bostwick shot his brother-in-law, C. G. Fields, and was arrested, charged with assault with intent to murder. He was put under a peace bond, but his bondsmen recently told the sheriff that he wanted to be relieved from re-

THE PATHFINDER
HISTORIC TOUR

Washington, D. C., June 28.—The pathfinder for the Munsey Historic tour is accomplishing the purpose for which it started out in a most gratifying manner. It is finding places famous in American history which many people have forgotten.

All through New Jersey, up the Hudson through Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, the procession of historic places was a revelation to the pathfinder party. The tour will be like refreshing oneself from the pages of a well written history, but the travelers will have the additional charm of studying the very scenes on which heroic deeds were done.

The Munsey Historic tour adds to automobile touring the element of enjoyable travel. The pathfinders report beautiful scenery. At the time of the tour, starting from Philadelphia August 15 and continuing about two weeks, the route will be at its height of beauty. Other tours have been strictly endurance of men and machines. This will afford an instructive, patriotic and fascinating journey.

Hodge in "The Man from Home." When William Hodge, in Booth Tarkington's great American comedy, "The Man from Home," terminates his engagement at the Park Theatre, Boston, on Saturday evening, July 9, he will do so with the proud distinction of having broken all known records in Boston, entertaining more people and playing to the largest box office receipts of any dramatic production.

It was originally intended to bring the engagement to a close on July 2, but on account of so many letters addressed to Mr. Hodge and the theatre management from school teachers all over New England and from the states of New York and Pennsylvania, asking if "The Man from Home" would be on view during the week of July responsibility. On Friday a deputy went to Bostwick's house to arrest him, but Bostwick told him he would never submit to arrest, that he would die first.

A large number of citizens left Ocilla for the scene of the fight Sunday night, well armed, and making threats of lynching.

Bostwick was a white man with a fighting reputation, and he threatened to kill everybody who came in range of his bullets. He was well armed and had a good supply of ammunition.

The first attack on Bostwick's house was made at 2 Sunday afternoon. He was wanted on a misdemeanor charge, and Sheriff McInnis with Chief Davis and Deputy Sheriffs Bass and Tucker went to arrest him. When they came within close range Bostwick opened fire and Chief Davis fell dead and Bass fell wounded.

The officers removed the dead and wounded and summoned a posse from Ocilla and Irwinville and surrounded the house.

Sheriff McInnis, with Deputies Tucker and Sheffield, led the second onslaught. Bostwick killed Sheffield instantly and wounded two other officers.

4, when the teachers held their annual convention in Boston, that the Messrs. Liebler and Company have prevailed upon Mr. Hodge to continue until Saturday evening, July 9, when the season for both the company and the theatre will positively close.

In many respects, the engagement of "The Man from Home" has been most remarkable. For the first 18 weeks the orchestra was placed under the stage so that the seating capacity of the theatre could be increased 53 seats. During the twenty-five weeks just passed, 253,181 people have witnessed "The Man from Home," an average of 1,205 persons a performance. The box office statements show that the total receipts have reached the enormous sum of $248,010.25, an average of $9,920.41 weekly.

Mr. Hodge has been called upon to make 211 certain speeches, and Mr. Hodge and the members of his company have responded to an average of twelve curtain calls a performance. 9,150 mail orders for tickets have been received from all parts of New England, an average of 61 per day, or 266 a week. These mail orders represent $36,261.25.

All things considered, Mr. Hodge in "The Man from Home" has scored a success and a record in Boston that will stand for a long time to come.

Unquestionably, this popular star and play night continue through the summer months to profitable business, but the actors need rest to prepare for the coming season, and many of them have booked passages to Europe during the month of July.

The management reports that the sale for the last two weeks points to a business that will compare favorably with the largest weeks of the engagement, notwithstanding the warlike weather.

A special matinee will be given on July 4.

The Oldest Libraries. The oldest libraries of which we have any certain knowledge are those brought to light by excavations among the ruins of the east. Among these are the Babylonian books inscribed on clay tablets, supposed to have been prepared for public instruction about 350 B. C. It is said by Aristotle that Strabo was the first known collector of books and manuscripts. This was about the year 350 B. C.

MAN INJURED BY TAFT'S AUTOMOBILE

Beverly, June 28.—While out riding Monday morning in his automobile, in company with Lindell King of Minneapolis, George Harrison of Washington, Robert A. Taft, son of President Taft, ran into an Italian, Michael Thithwolla, near Prides Crossing, knocking him down and causing a fractured skull and injuries about the body.

The injured man was taken to the Beverly hospital by Dr. Blaisdell, who attended him.

Thithwolla, who was employed by a Gloucester concern and was engaged in oiling the street near Prides Crossing, stepped out in front of Taft's auto, which was running at a low rate of speed and before Taft could stop, his machine hit the man.

Young Taft's two companions in the car at the time of the accident were fellow students of his at Yale, and have been his guests for the last three or four days.

Robert Taft, with his two college friends, started out from the Taft cottage early Monday for a spin along the North shore. Robert, who has been driving the automobile about the city considerably since his arrival last week, had the steering wheel and the others sat behind.

At Prides Crossing, about two miles from here, the streets are being oiled by many men. The automobile was slowed down, the horn was sounded and most of the men stepped aside. One of them, however, was not quite quick enough, and the machine struck him, tossing him into the gutter. He

HIGHWAYMEN
HOLD UP A TRAIN

Ogden, Utah, June 28.—Three masked bandits held up the second section of Oregon Short Line train No. 1, northbound, which left Ogden at 1.30 on Monday at 2d street, in the northern part of this city.

All of the passengers in the train were relieved of their valuables, and the express messenger was compelled to deliver the contents of the safe. The exact amount the robbers obtained has not been reported. Two passengers and two trainmen were injured.

The robbers stopped the train by placing railroad torpedoes on the track. When the engineer brought the train to a stop the head brakeman went forward to ascertain the cause of the delay, and was struck with a revolver by one of the robbers. He was taken taken at the point of a pistol to the express car and compelled to call to the messenger to open the door.

As soon as the door opened one of the bandits crawled in and commanded the messenger to open the safe. After rifling the safe, in which there was little money, the first section of the train, carrying the money chest, the robbers turned to the coaches, and they started for the coaches, and brakeman N. B. Franklin was met as he was on his way forward. The bandits commanded him to halt, but he refused and two shots were fired at him. He then stopped and one of the bandits knocked him down.

Franklin rolled into a ditch, where he feigned unconsciousness. After seeing that he was not watched, he jumped up and ran three blocks, to the home of Deputy Sheriff Hutchens, whom he aroused and informed of the robbery. The deputy arrived at the scene just as the train pulled out.

The train robbers went through every coach with a deliberation that showed they were not novices. When conductor H. L. Williams left the train he was stopped by one of the robbers and ordered back into a coach. While one of the desperados stood guard over engineer Kirkwood, the other two with drawn revolvers went through the train ordering every passenger to hand over his valuables.

Mrs. J. H. Bull's diamond earrings were torn from her ears. A forelager, whose name was not learned, was assaulted by the robbers because he did not surrender his cash at once. The man did not understand what was going on and was beaten with the butt of a revolver. After the train had been robbed, the bandits fired their pistols to terrorize the passengers. Then they got into a buggy in which they had driven to the spot, and hurried away.

Sheriff Wilson gathered a small posse and started in pursuit. There were nearly 100 passengers on the train, every one of whom lost something.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

SKIPPING a birthday now and then is a subterfuge that old Father Time pays no attention to, but continues his slaughter relentlessly.

One reason why we all hate bad luck so is because it is no good.

It is easy enough to get out of temper, but mighty hard sledding when you have done so.

The worst thing about the heated season is that it brings out such a crop of don't worry and keep cool near-wise ones.

An unfounded rumor is harder to catch than the nimble dollar or a base-ball pennant.

To be effective all a girl has to do is to smile alluringly and tell a man that he is better than all the others, at the same time has her own troubles losing him afterward.

The Only Day.
Hurray! We're going to have it must no longer can we stand the strain. Yes; noise is all right in its place. But when it muzzles up the fan. Cuts off our fingers and our thumbs As loudly down the road it huns. We look about us, and we say "Pray, is there not a saner way?"

The little popper is all right. But when it comes to dynamite. And other things with which the Jap Would try to reconstruct the map. We find the place to draw the line. And very sagely we opine. That we can find a better way. To celebrate the glorious day.

Bond of Sympathy.

"The boss caught me smoking cigarettes this morning."
"Did he see you?"
"No; he borrowed one."

Good Idea.
"All is lost save honor."
"Huh?"
"What will you do now for a livelihood?"

"Heaven only knows."
"Gracious! I have an idea."
"Good! What is it?"
"Put honor on exhibition at so much per; it ought to be a great drawing card."

"You have no friends, you say?"
"No."
"You ought to work and."
"What good that?"
"It will bring you one friend who will always stay by you."
"Who is that?"
"The fellow you are working for."

One Drawback.
"Do you believe in old age pensions?"
"Well, they would be hard on the women."
"In what way?"
"The poor things would be going from 35 to 65 all in one jump."

Useful Charlie.
"The girls seem very fond of him."
"Yes."
"I never could see anything in him. I wonder what they find to like about him."
"They say he ties their shoes so charmingly."

Unpleasant.
"I don't believe that you know what truth is."
"Oh, don't you?"
"No, I don't."
"Well, I do know. That's the reason I am such an accomplished liar."

His Reason.
"It is easy enough to be good."
"It is?"
"Yes."
"Then why don't you be good?"
"I don't like to. I would rather raise a ruckus any day."

Easy Way.
"There goes General Barnes."
"What war was he in?"
"None that I know of."
"How did he get his title?"
"By tipping waiters in southern hotels."

Timely Warning.
"We must forget to say it in all this hurry-burry. But please do not delay it—Buy Christmas presents early."

So Commonplace.
"Now, where would you look for the north pole?"
"In the north, I suppose."
"Say, you haven't got the least bit of originality."

Hard.
"What's his grouch?"
"He can't forgive society for finding out what a consummate fool he is."

Foolish Question.
"Is Ethel going to marry Jack?"
"Why, hadn't you heard that his firm has failed?"

PRETTY WEDDING

Cassidy-Timmons Nuptials Today—Manchester Man Take Bride in This City

Another pretty June wedding took place today at the Church of the Immaculate Conception when Miss Elizabeth C. Timmons became the bride of James A. Cassidy of Manchester, N. H. Nuptial mass as celebrated by Rev. Fr. Edward J. Walsh, P. R., who also performed the wedding ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

The bride wore white silk trimmings of Irish point lace white hat trimmed with plumes and carried bride's roses. Miss Mary C. Timmons attended as bridesmaid and was dressed in blue silk trimmed with all over lace hat to match.

The groomsmen was James J. Cassidy of Manchester. A reception and wedding breakfast followed at the home of the bride, No. 15 McDonough street.

The menu consisted of salads, cold meats, ices, cake and fruit. The couple departed on the afternoon train for a trip to New York and Atlantic City, and on their return will reside in Manchester.

The bride's traveling gown was Alice blue silk and white satin waist. Guests were present from Dover, Manchester, Portland and Boston.

They received many beautiful and useful gifts from friends and acquaintances who are numerous in the home city of bride and groom, and who unite in wishing them much joy and happiness in their new life.

PENSIONS FOR LIFE SAVERS

People Around Here to Be Benefited By the Proposed New Law

The pension bill for life savers is now expected to pass the senate as one of the last acts of that national body. Senator Henry E. Burnham is working in the interests of the measure, which provides for compulsory retirement on three-quarters pay at the age of 64 years, or voluntary retirement after thirty years of service, if the age limit is not reached. It further provides a 10 per cent. increase of salary for every five years, up to and including twenty years of service.

Capt. Albert L. Remick of the Rye Beach station will be affected by the thirty years' service clause should the bill pass, and nearly every sportsman at Wood Island, Rye Beach and Wallis Sands will be affected by the gradual scale for longevity of service.

Several men of the life saving service in Maine will be affected both by the age limit and the seniority of service.

CONDITION SAID TO BE SERIOUS

As Result of Accident While Traveling on Electric Cars

Mrs. Eleanor Donnell, wife of Samuel Donnell, and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Donnell of York Village, Me., who were thrown from a trolley car of the Atlantic Shore Line Railway company, when returning from the Traip academy commencement to their homes, Friday night, were reported to be in a serious condition. Mrs. Donnell was said to have a fracture of the left leg and severe internal injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert also suffered internal injuries.

The car was run Friday night for the first time on the summer schedule. In descending the hill the emergency brakes did not work properly, according to the injured people, and the car coasted down the hill, gaining terrific momentum and whirling about a sharp curve at the base. Mrs. Donnell and Mr. and Mrs. Lambert were thrown from the car to the ground.

OLD BANNERS

Those of 1873 to Be in the Parade on Monday

One of the historic features of the parade on Monday next will be the several old banners, which were carried in the line of march on the occasion of the return of the sons and daughters in 1873. These banners are in the possession of Charles W. Gray and the plan is to have them displayed from a decorated wagon in the parade.

The handsome motives are in a good state of preservation and will certainly be an attraction on this occasion.

REGAL
Oxford
in our Window

the next time you're passing our store.

Note its trim, smart lines and exclusive custom shape. It's an exact reproduction of an expensive model designed by a famous New York custom shoemaker. And we can show you other Regal styles just as smart as this one, if you will step inside our store. Regal Oxfords hug the ankle, and Regal quarter-sizes insure an exact fit.

We want to fit you to a pair of these Regal Oxfords, because we know they're the greatest shoe values in the world and will give you complete satisfaction.
